

A black and white photograph of a cityscape, likely from the early 20th century. The scene is dominated by buildings with light-colored facades. In the foreground, a prominent white wall or balcony railing runs across the frame. In the background, a building with a balcony and arched windows is visible. The sky is clear and bright. The overall composition is a high-angle view looking down onto the buildings.

ARQUIVO MUNICIPAL

ANTÓNIO
ROSA
MENDES

— OLHÃO —